

Story-based Reading Materials to Enhance 21st-Century Skills

Jae-young Lee

Introduction

With the advent of the globalized world, English is becoming increasingly important as a means to facilitate communication between people throughout the world. Educators have a responsibility to enable students to learn language for their future use; there is also an emphasis on helping learners to acquire 21st-century skills. However, children learning English as foreign language do not always see an immediate purpose for the language; this leads to difficulties in the learning process. The priority for materials developers is to develop materials which can motivate learners to become engaged with the target language. One possible solution is through the use of stories. To this end, I provide here a lesson plan to be used with story-based reading material; this lesson is designed to help learners acquire language and 21st-century skills at the same time.

Story-based text

Children's stories have a positive impact on emotional development as well as language learning. As Ghosn (2013) points out, well-written stories help young learners to develop emotionally, especially to develop empathy, which is considered a key element of being a global citizen. In particular, stories are able to present universal emotions that such as happiness, courage or fear, and this naturally encourages children to feel empathy toward other people. With this in mind, I have created an original story as a reading text for children to connect with characters based on the universal feeling of fear of the dark.

21st-century skills

In 2015 the World Economic Forum attempted to define exactly what is meant by '21st-century skills'. Four key competencies were identified.

Competency	Definition
Critical thinking	ability to identify, analyze and evaluate situations, ideas and information to formulate responses
Creativity	ability to imagine and devise new, innovative ways of addressing problems, answering questions or expressing meaning through the application, synthesis or repurposing of knowledge
Communication	Communication: ability to listen to, understand, convey and contextualize information through verbal, nonverbal, visual and written means
Collaboration	ability to work in a team towards a common goal, including the ability to manage conflict.

I found a high correlation between these competencies and language learning and adapted the four competencies – critical thinking, creativity, communication, and collaboration – into the lesson and material.

Key features of the material

- An original story provoking universal emotions such as fear that children would have empathy.
- Division of the story into two parts gives enough time for learners to think and increases curiosity.
- The development of the four competencies is balanced with language learning within each task.
- The context of real-life situations provides a link to learners' own experiences.
- Vocabulary is learned through the context of stories to facilitate understanding.

What are you afraid of?

Think and communicate

Let's talk with a friend like Bory and Tory. What are you afraid of? Why?

Bory: What are you afraid of?

Tory: I am afraid of the dark.

Bory: Why?

Tory: Because I can't see anything.

What are you afraid of?

I am afraid of...
Because..

dark

ghost

window

triangle

monster

Words Listen and complete Tory's journal with words.

It was a dark night.

I draw a green triangle for my math class.

I looked outside the window.

I saw a ghost and a monster.

It was scary.

Time to read Listen while you read.

Part 1: A black Triangle

Today is a big day. Ju-won will sleep alone in his room. "Are you ready?" said mom. "Yes, I'm ready. I can sleep alone." said Ju-won. "Are you sure? I can go to bed with you." said mom. Ju-won said, "It's okay, mom. I can sleep alone. I am not afraid of anything." Mom said, "Then, good night." Ju-won asked, "Can you open the door a little?" "Okay, honey." said mom. Then she turned off the light and left the room. Now he was all alone in his dark room.

Suddenly, he saw a black triangle on the wall. Ju-won asked, "Are you a ghost?" It was quiet. Too quiet. Ju-won said, "Actually, I am afraid of a ghost. I can't sleep alone. Who are you?"

Then he saw the black triangle with five round ears. No! ten round ears! Now it was next to the window. He asked, "Are you a monster?" It was quiet. Too quiet. He said, "Actually I am afraid of a ghost. And a monster! I can't sleep alone. Who are you?"

Time to understand

A. Choose the correct answer.

- There are two characters: mom and A. Ju-won.
A. Ju-won B. Harry C. Sana
- Where are the two characters?
A. In the kitchen B. In the living room C. In Ju-won's bedroom

B. Choose Yes or No.

- Ju-won saw a black triangle in his room.  Yes  No
- The black triangle with ten round ears was under the window.
 Yes  No
- Ju-won was afraid of a ghost.
 Yes  No

Tip! Go back to words when you forget the words.

Time to think critically

What are similar and different between you and Ju-won?
Complete the diagram.

Time to read Listen while you read.

Part 2: A black Triangle

Still he saw the black triangle with ten round ears on the wall. He said, "I can't sleep alone. Actually, I am afraid of the dark, a ghost and a monster. And a black triangle with ten round ears! I can't sleep until it goes away."

He waited and waited. But he still saw a black triangle with ten round ears. He looked closer. Then, he saw a black star on top of the black triangle.

He said with a big smile, "Oh, I know what it is. It is a/an Christmas tree." Suddenly, colorful lights were on the Christmas tree. He said with his eyes closed, "Now I can go to bed alone."

Time to be creative

- Clue 1: A black triangle with ten round ears.
- Clue 2: A black star on top of the black triangle.
- Clue 3: Colorful lights were on the black triangle.

What do you think it is? Draw it and fill in the blanks of the story.

Time to collaborate

Solve the shadow quiz with friends. Work in small groups.

Draw

Bory saw a black half circle.
And she saw a black oval shape under the half circle.
What is it?

It is a hat.

Half circle

An oval

Challenge: Make your own shadow quiz with friends.
It would be fun!
